Northpoint's background in finance is what attracted me. I was new to the rental business and felt they were uniquely qualified to help me evaluate and make decisions about my property. They assessed my investment and made considered suggestions for the rental rate and other options. The degree to which they screen applicants is impressive. They don't settle for second best and I've been very happy with the people selected. Northpoint sets a high standard of expectations and is clear about consequences. They are accessible and responsive.

Sincerely

Nancy
